The suspected drugs originated from the United Kingdom and were sent in four different parcels that were addressed to persons residing close to Port Louis. The envelopes were tagged by officers of the Customs Anti-Narcotics Section (CANS) of the Mauritius Revenue Authority (MRA) during sorting and same were opened as these were unclaimed. Transparent sachets containing a crystalline substance were found glued to the greeting cards in the envelopes. A field test for Crystal Meth carried out on the substance was positive.
